

I am vehemently opposed to the proposed changes in media ownership rules that would enable further media consolidation. I am also deeply disturbed by the reported proposal by FCC Chairman Julius Genachowski to proceed with these changes without allowing for public comment. The last two times these relaxed regulations were proposed, the FCC welcomed the opportunity for public input by holding several public hearings.